Director for
Institute for Development and Research in Banking Technology (IDRBT)

IDRBT - The Institute (www.idrbt.ac.in):

The Reserve Bank of India had set up the Institute for Development and Research in Banking Technology (IDRBT) on June 10, 1996 as a Society under the Society Registration Act, governed by a Governing Council (GC). The Director, IDRBT is Member Secretary of the Governing Council.

The objective of IDRBT was to spearhead technology absorption in the banking and financial sector of the country. In its initial years, IDRBT was primarily focused on developing and managing technology infrastructure for the Indian Banking and Financial Sector such as INFINET, SFMS, NFS, Certifying Authority for digital certificates, etc. The research and academic activities provided the technical know-how for the creation of these services and trained manpower for the banking industry as well. During past 4-5 years, the Institute had taken series of focused initiatives on major areas of research on the systemic requirements of the banking system which have large scale implications on the effective absorption and adoption of technology.

The Institute has set up state-of-the-art Research Centers for aiding and promoting research and development work. The Research Centers are being constantly upgraded with the latest systems, devices and tools to keep pace with the ever-changing technology trends. The research centers of the Institute are working in areas like blockchain technology, cyber security, fraud analytics, cloud services and payment systems which are likely to have a long-term impact on the Indian Banking and Financial Sector (<https://www.idrbt.ac.in/rescent.html>).

The Institute runs Academic Programme for regular M. Tech, Ph. D, Post Graduate Diploma in Banking Technology (PGDBT), etc. (details at <https://www.idrbt.ac.in/academics.html>).

The Institute has also formed various Forums (<https://www.idrbt.ac.in/forums.html>) for CISO, CIOs, CAO, etc. to provide collaborative platform and fora with an objective to find optimum solution for Indian Banking and Financial Sector. The Institute publishes quality research papers in national and international journals and conferences and also provides Training, Advisory and Consultancy Services on Technology Infrastructure.
